OFFICERS LEAVE FOR DETROIT TO SECURE FINLEYVILLE BONDS

District Attorney Cummins Wires to Have Men Again Arrested

BONDS HAVE BEEN IDENTIFIED

Joseph F. Boyer, cashier of the First National Bank of Finleyville, Attorney Carl E. Gibson, of Monongahela, attorney for the bank, and County Detective B. M. Laird left for Detroit last night, being called here by the arrest of two men who were trying to dispose of bonds belonging to the bank, and which were stolen by bandits on the 24th of May last.

Every bond found in the possession of the two men, Benjamin and David Davis, was one that had been stolen from the bank on the day of the sensational holdup. County Detective Laird had warrants to place the men under arrest and return them to this county and, if possible, to link them up with the crime committed at Finleyville. The men caught trying to sell the bonds are believed, if actually connected with the Finleyville robbery, to be the "men higher up."

County officials expressed the opinion last night that they might be agents through whom bank robbers and burglars were disposing of the negotiable paper they secured in their raids on institutions and homes in all sections of the country. The brothers were released on bail in Detroit after being arrested, but District Attorney Cummins wired last night to have them again arrested and held pending the arrival of the Washington county officials.

The Finleyville bank was notified on Friday noon of the arrest of the men and the recovery of the bonds in Detroit, Mr. Boyer said, but this had been expected for some time, the bank having obtained a line on the location of the bonds through newspaper advertisements in which a reward of $5,000 was offered for the recovery of the securities.

DONORA RIVER BRIDGE AGAIN OPEN TO TRAFFIC

Donora is gradually emerging from its shell. The Donora river bridge, which has been closed for the past two weeks, was opened again this morning to all kinds of traffic. The approach on the Donora side is completed, while on the Webster side a one-way traffic rule will prevail for a few days. Work is progressing nicely on the improvement of the Donora-Monongahela road, and it should be completed by the middle of August, all of which indicates that Donora will have normal highway traffic within the next month.

All former Soldiers, Sailors and Marines are requested to attend the funeral of our deceased comrade Myron B. Jobes. Meet at Municipal Building 1:30 P. M. Sunday.

GIRL UNINJURED WHEN WHEN CAR PASSES OVER IT

Gibson Young experienced quite an exciting incident last evening about 6:30 while driving down Lincoln Avenue in his car. As he approached Ninth street a little girl aged about 5 years was seen directly in front of the machine. He steered his car to miss the child, but in spite of his efforts the little girl either fell or was knocked down, the car passing over her without doing the child any injury. Mr. Young drove his car through a fence and damaged it somewhat.

I will collect that rent, positively in advance and guarantee no vacancies. Clyde B. Cope, Real Estate and Insurance, 315 McKean avenue. 21-tf*

GIRL WOUNDED BY RECKLESS SHOOTING

Dr. Faddis was called to Twilight borough last evening about eight o'clock to attend a little girl, who had been wounded by the reckless shooting of two men who were driving up the creek in a Ford car. The little girl, aged about 10 years, was wounded above the knee of the left leg, and while the wound is not dangerous, it is very painful. The girl in company with two companions, all of whom were standing along the road at the time of the shooting. The men in the car suddenly began to shoot, not at any definite mark, it is presumed, but one of the bullets, evidently striking a stone, glanced and struck the little girl above the knee. The wounded girl cried out in pain, but the men in the car never stopped. On the contrary, it is said they put on more gas and were soon out of sight.

COAL MUST BE SHIPPED TO LAKE

Order No. 10, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, designed to increase coal shipments to the Great Lakes, has a bearing upon the coal situation in the Monongahela valley, in that it directs that a "certain percentage" of the daily shipments be consigned to H. M. Griggs, manager of the Ore and Coal Exchange at Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Briggs is named as the agent of the commission in the execution of the order and is given authority to name the percentage of shipments which must be consigned to the lakes. The order for this region includes all the mines west of Latrobe and east of Grafton, W. Va. and the mines touched by the Monongahela Railway. The order becomes effective on Monday next.

STATE INSISTS ON AUTO REGULATIONS

Within the last few weeks a number of arrests of automobile truck drivers have been made at the instance of inspectors for the Automobile Division of the State Highway Department, and many men have been fined for carrying overloads on their machines.

Several weeks ago inspectors for the Department and State Policemen began an inspection of the trucks coming into Pennsylvania. These officials were equipped with lodometers, or "jack scales." With these machines it is possible to get the approximate weight of trucks. The lodometer is a mechanism with a jack attachment and is placed under the axles of trucks suspected of being over weight. Two lodometers are placed first under the rear axle, which is then jacked up. The dials on the lodometers give the weight carried on the rear end of the truck. Then the lodometers are moved to the front axle and that end is raised. The total weight registered frot and back gives the approximate weight of truck and load. Under the State law trucks must have painted on the outside the maximum weight limit permitted by the manufacturer of the car. If the lodometers show that this weight limit has been exceeded the inspectors take the truck to the nearest scales where an exact weight is secured.

Under the law no commercial vehicle may carry a weight greater than that specified by the manufact-

LIGHT FINE FOR MAKING MOONSHINE

Judge Charles P. Orr in the United States District Court at Pittsburg on Friday, fined William Yalenik and Eli Swanish, of Lincoln, Fayette county, $1 each for having violated the national prohibition law. Both men entered pleas of guilty. The small fine was imposed by the court because the men were arrested without a warrant and kept in jail for eight days before they were given a hearing. The courts severely criticised the arresting officers for taking the men into custody without first obtaining a warrant. He said he would not add to their punishment. The prohibition officers to whom the still and moonshine had been turned over by the arresting officers told the court that some one had stolen the liquor from his office in Uniontown.

STEEL OFFICIALS INSPECT THE RIVER

Officials of the United States Steel Corporation, accompanied by the officers of the Carnegie Steel company of Pittsburg left Clairton on Friday on board the steamer William Whigham, for an inspection trip up the Monongahela river. The party, after inspecting the various plants of the company, made a thorough study of the transportation facilities of the river from Clairton to Ronco in the sixth pool, where coal is loaded for the Clairton by-product plant.

The party consisted of James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation; H. D. Williams, president of the Carnegie Steel company; William Whigham, vice president of the corporation; W. H. Clingerman, president of the H. C. Frick Coke company; Harry Davis, superintendent of the Clairton plant; and E. A. Kerr, general transportation manager of the United States Steel Corporation. Capt. A. O. Ackard, superintendent of transportation for the Carnegie Steel Company, accompanied the party and acted as host.

When the party arrived at Greensboro they embarked on the cypress boat Una, and continued the survey of the hodings of the company as far as Morgantown. The steamer Whigham left Ronco Saturday morning with the party on board and with six barges of coal in tow for the Clairton plant.

PROSPECTS FOR RIVER ROAD APPEAR TO GROW BRIGHTER

LARGE PROPERTY IS DISPOSED OF BY WILL

The will of James Nelson, Sr. late of Carroll township, and a former commissioner of Washington county, has been probated. He left realty worth $19,000 and personality worth $20,000. He directs his executor to dispose of his property within a year after his death. The income of one-half of the proceeds is to be invested for the benefit of his wife during her lifetime, or as long as she remains a widow. The other half is to be divided by giving $500 to his son James and $100 each to James Moore and Ruth Moore. The balance of the estate is to be divided between his brother, Alexander Nelson and his sister, Margaret Hurd.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR BRIDGE REPAIRS

At a special meeting of the Monessen council held a few days ago a contract was awarded to the John F. Casey company for the repairs to the concrete viaduct in that town. This viaduct has been closed for some time, an inspection showing that the structure was rapidly disintegrating and that immediate repairs were necessary to maintain it in safe condition. Experts have gone over the structure and council has been advised as to the character of repairs. The Casey company promise to have the repairs completed within fifteen weeks, the work being done on the cost plus plan, the contracting company to receive $5,000 profit. Work of repair will begin within a few days. It is estimated that the work will cost between $35,000 and $50,000.

VIOLATE CHILD LABOR LAW AND ARE FINED

Two Greeks, Tom Demetrides of 454 Donner avenue, and Cavris Vaslaikis of 401 Donner avenue, Monessen, proprietors of shoe shining establishments, were arrested a few days ago on complaint of the State Inspector of the Department of Labor, with violating the child labor law. Both were charged with employing minors under sixteen years of age more than nine hours a day and more than 51 hours a week and after eight o'clock at night. No certificates had been secured for some of the boys and no schedule had been posted in accordance with the law.

The men were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace White, found guilty of the charge and fined $50 and costs. The state inspector is collecting evidence against a number of other violators of the child labor law, and unless conditions are improved, more arrests will follow.

Many Details Cleared Up In Conference with State Highway Head

MAY DO SOMETHING VERY SOON

The Washington county commissioners, who returned from Harrisburg on Thursday, expressed themselves as being highly pleased at the conference they held with State Highway Commissioner Sadler. In addition to the Burgettstown-Hickory road, which it was agreed should be built under State specifications by the county, the state to spend a similar sum on Washington county roads, the county commissioners and Mr. Sadler discussed the Speers-Coal Center road at some length. While no definite conclusion was reached in regard toit, certain matters that had been obscure and undetermined heretofore were smoothed out, with the result that very soon something tangible can be done about the construction of this important river road.

Local business men are keeping in touch with the situation, and no doubt will be informed within a short time just what action will be necessary in order to have this important piece of road placed under contract for permanent improvement. The season is so far advanced now and material so scarce thatitis not likely anything will be done during the present year. However, all of the details looking to an early start next spring could be taken care of, so that contractors would have, all of the good weather of the coming year in which to push the improvement.

While in Harrisburg the commissioners also learned that the highway department, with the earnest approval of the Governor, is determined to break up the practice of truck owners and drivers pounding over the roads with loads that are in excess of the regulations. Already a number of drivers have been arrested for this offense, and it is the intention of the department to have them fined heavily if found guilty. As these fines revert to the use of the department these violators will be contributing in this way to the upkeep of the roads that their overloaded machines abuse and destroy.

Officials of the highway department will be in this section of the state next week and will visit Washington county. They will lend such aid to the local authorities as may be necessary in the prosecution of those who load their trucks beyond the legal limit.

Florence Laura Marconi, aged 10 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Marconi of Pittsburg died at the family home July 23 at 6:30 p. m. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at nine o'clock. The deceased was a niece of Mrs. Frank Riva of Charleroi.

MORE SUGAR THAN EVER

Domestic sugar production in the United States fell off last year 200,000 tons. Increased imports made it possible for the American public to have access to 15 per cent more sugar than ever before.

There has thus been no real sugar shortage. Either consumption has increased tremendously, or large stocks of sugar are now held by domestic consumers for future use, or are in the hands of dealers or speculators in anticipation of higher prices. The probability is that several considerations are at the foundation of the apparent shortage.

The facts are established that sugar consumption has been on the increase during the last fifty years. The increase has not been great, but steady, averaging about one pound per person per year. The per capita consumption is now close to ninety pounds, as compared with sixty pounds in 1899.

The department of agriculture is optimistic regarding the future. Conditions point to a more abundant supply by winter. The higher prices this year stimulated increased planting both of beets and cane.

Reports from the beet sugar fields indicate a shortage of labor highly discouraging to the planters. Improvement in the farm labor situation is already apparent. For the first time in the history of the country no small grain is being left to rot in the fields on account of the scarcity of hands. They will in all probability be available for the sugar plantations when the harvesting is done. Their numbers will probably increase as the demand for labor falls off in the industrial centers.

HIS NEWSPAPER CREED

Senator Harding has not only been a life-long publisher, but one creditable to the profession. His idea of newspaper ethics set forth in a circular of instructions given to every reporter employed on the paper. Here is a full set of instructions given by Harding to writers on the Marion Star for their guidance:

"Remember there are two sides to every question. Get them both.

"Be truthful. Get the facts.

"Mistakes are inevitable, but strive for accuracy. I would rather have one story exacty right than a hundred half wrong.

"Be decent, be fair, be generous.

"Boost—don't knock.

"There's good in everybody. Bring out the good in everybody, and never needessly hurt the feeings of anybody.

"In reporting a political gathering, give the facts, tell the story as it is, not as you would like to have it. Treat al parties alike.

"If there's any politics to be played, we wil play it in the editorial columns.

"Treat all religious matters reverently.

"If it can possibly be avoided never bring ignominy to an innocent man or child in telling of the misdeeds or misfortunes of a relative.

"Don't wait to be asked, but do it without asking, and, above all, be clean and never let a dirty word or suggestive story get into type.

"I want this paper to be so conducted that it can go into any home without destroying the innocence of any child."

AFTER THE SLACKERS.

A nation-wide roundup of 100,000 draft deserters is promised by the government, and it will be started soon as a final effort to bring to justice the men who failed to answer the call to arms in America's draft army during the war. For months the war department has been preparing a mammoth list of names of men who can be classed beyond question as actual and not theoretical draft deserters. This list is expected to be completed soon, and once prepared, will be published in the newspapers of the country, each paper covering its own locality.

While it was known there were some who evaded the draft during the war, it will be surprising to know that so many men subject to the provisions of the conscription law managed to evade service. However, with the government officials on the trail, and a publication of the names, it is likely that most, if not all of these slackers will be brought before a court martial to answer for their unpatriotic conduct.

men. It is on this point that arrests are now being made throughout the State. The Automobile Division inspectors find that the greatest loads are being carried after dark; and they report steady streams of huge motor trucks constantly plying between New York and New Jersey points and Philadelphia. The fine for overloading trucks is from $25 to $100 and in addition costs are levied, or a six months jail sentence may be imposed. The fine goes into the treasury of the municipality in which the arrest is made.

The Department's odometers in future will be in continuous use throughout the State and trucks will be stopped and weighed on the highways.

"Users of the roads of Pennsylvania must not lose their sense of proportion," said State Highway Commissioner Sadler today. "There is a legal limit for truck weights beyond which owners or drivers of trucks must not go. Our new highways are being built to carry certain weights specified by the legislature. We will not permit road users to violate those regulations. Arrests will continue to be made so ong as these violations continue."

Commercial vehicles are divided into seven classes. The maximum weights allowed for these classes, including chassis, body and load, are as follows:

Class AA, 7,000 pounds; class A, 11,000 pounds; class B, 15,000 pounds; class C, 20,000 pounds, class D, 24,000 pounds; class C, and F, 26,000 pounds.

No commercial vehicles may travel at a rate of speed in excess of that shown in the following table:

Class AA, 20 miles per hour; class A, 20 miles; class B, 18 miles; class C, 15 miles; cass D, 15 miles; class E, 12 miles; class F, 10 miles.

The Department again calls attention to the requirement of the law that commercial vehicles must have painted on a conspicuous place on the outside and on both sides in figures three inches high the maximum weight limit of the vehicle, this weight limit to include chassis, body and load.

Rheumatism Not Incurable

Doctors Tell of Method Necessary to Obtain Relief

The hundreds of sufferers from rheumatism in this city will welcome the statement of Doctor Reese, that rheumatism is not incurable.

In a statement Doctor Reese gives a few side lights on the cause of this disorder and its best method of treatment.

"Rheumatism," he said, "is due primarily to pus pockets forming in the body usually caused in the beginning by bad teeth or effected tonsils. To get relief, one must remove from the blood and system the poisons thus distributed. The quickest and best method of doing this is to take REESE FORMULA R-11 three times a day.

"Formula R-11 works directly on the stomach, liver and kidneys, removes all the poisons from these organs, purifies the blood and builds up the system generally. In this manner it removes all traces of rheumatism. The relief so obtained can be guaranteed more positively if the patient will have the teeth attended to immediately."

The Reese Formula R-11 being a general tonic and system builder relieves indigestion, rheumatism, lumbago, sleeplessness, urinary trouble, in fact all ailments due to the disorder of the stomach, liver and kidneys too numerous to mention.

If you wish further information, write direct to our Medical Adviser, Medical Department, The Reese Formula Co., Huntington, W. Va.

Buick

Buick Valve-In-Head Success

The Buick Valve-In-Head motor car's sales record each season is a good example of the confidence and prestage that the world's buyers have placed in Buick quality and manufacture.

The famous Buick policies and principles of twenty years ago still remain intact in Buick construction. They have stood the test of years of constant operation. Naturally the quality, endurance and economy which has been so essential to over five hundred thousand Buick owners in the past is now eagerly sought for by thousands of future motor car purcheeers.

Today the Buick Valve-In-Head built by the pioneer builders of Valve-In-Head motor cars stand pre-eminently before the entire motor car field as "first choice" among motor car buyers.
